DEPAUL UNIVERSITY

Academic Excellence in the Heart of Chicago

DePaul is one of the nation's largest private universities – we're committed to an educational experience that weaves together mind, place, people and heart.

Chicago, the 3rd largest U.S. city, is the vibrant and exciting home to renowned libraries, museums and excellent theater and music. Chicago is also headquarters for 30 of the Fortune 500 companies.

The Global Pathway Program (GPP) offers an exciting route into various majors and programs of study at DePaul. Specifically designed for students who are academically qualified for admission but need to strengthen their English proficiency, GPP students take a combination of English and academic courses. Upon successful completion of the GPP, students are granted acceptance into DePaul University.

GPP HOUSING

The University Center of Chicago (UCC), a large housing and dining complex on the perimeter of the DePaul Loop campus, serves as a residence for students from four local universities, including DePaul. GPP students will be housed in this well-maintained facility with high-quality amenities that include utilities, laundry, fitness center and more. GPP housing is required for undergraduate students. Graduate students may also choose to reside at the University Center, or may find their own housing. This facility is open all year, even during university closings.
